

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

Statement of Responsibilities - from June 2007 to January 2009

This letter is to verify that Glen Jay Clifford has been a casual teacher employed by TKB ACE English Center, Taipei, Taiwan.

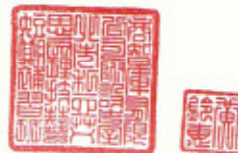

In this time, he has taught students our course in General Conversation, which has seven different levels, ranging from complete beginner to advanced. On occasions, Glen has also taught the General English Proficiency Test (GEPT) and the International English Language Testing System (IELTS) on a one-to-one, teacher-student basis.

A prominent quality is his ability to teach pronunciation and enunciation, along with how to obtain a neutral international English accent that is neither UK-English or North American. This is particularly helpful for learners who wish to undertake international business.

Glen is responsible and able to work without supervision and can be recommended for work as a teacher for an English as a second language (ESL) institution.

Yours faithfully,

Manager

TKB Ace English Center
